

Progressive Christianity Network Britain

invites you to a major conference

'Religion and Atheism - Beyond the Divide?'

at The French Protestant Church of London
Soho Square, London W1D 3QD

Saturday 8 June 2019

11.00 am – 4.00 pm

Registration and coffee from 10.15 am

Speakers

Julian Baggini

Philosopher and Author

Fiona Ellis

Professor of Philosophy, University of Roehampton

Harriet Harris

Head of Chaplaincy Service, University of Edinburgh

Richard Holloway

Former Bishop of Edinburgh, Writer and Broadcaster

PCN Britain is delighted to invite you to this conference which offers an opportunity to engage with our speakers in a conversation about religion, atheism, seeking ways to dialogue and to search for meaning. In an increasingly tribalistic world we hope that this day will offer possibilities to go beyond the divide which separate us and to search out areas of mutual agreement and understanding.

Julian Baggini is the author of several books about philosophy and is a co-founder of The Philosopher's Magazine. His latest book, 'How the World Thinks: A Global History of Philosophy' gives a groundbreaking global overview of philosophy.

Fiona Ellis is Professor of Philosophy at Roehampton University and Director of its Centre for the Philosophy of Religion. She has recently edited a collection of contributions under the title New Models of Religious Understanding.

Harriet Harris is the Head of Chaplaincy Service at the University of Edinburgh, overseeing a large multi-faith and humanist team. A priest in the Scottish Episcopal Church, she is author of numerous books and is currently editing a volume on Atheism.

Richard Holloway was Bishop of Edinburgh from 1986 to 2000. Writer and broadcaster, Richard's latest book 'Waiting for the Last Bus-Reflections on Life and Death' adds to a long list of books on religion, ethics and morality.

1. Can the non-religious make use, with integrity, of concepts of 'transcendence' and a 'spiritual' dimension to human existence?
2. Do we need to reassess the boundaries of the 'natural'?
3. Are progressive Christians inevitably led to a position of being religious humanists?

.....and many more questions for you to ask!

Programme

10.15 Registration and coffee

11.00 Welcome and Introduction to the Day

11.15 Harriet Harris

11.55 Short break

12.10 Julian Baggini

12.50 Tea and coffee will be available. Sandwiches may be eaten in the church or in Soho Square Gardens. Numerous food outlets nearby!

1.45 Richard Holloway

2.25 Short break

2.30 Questions to the speakers, facilitated and chaired by Fiona Ellis

3.15 The speakers reflect with each other

3.45 Where does this take us? Fiona Ellis

4.00 Vote of thanks

We are very grateful for the invitation by the French Protestant Church to hold this conference in their church. There will be some building work in progress so toilet facilities may be limited; however, we will endeavor to make adequate provision. We regret that disabled toilet facilities may not be available.

Bursary help is available for PCN members on a low income / benefits/ unemployed

HOW TO BOOK

You can book tickets via the PCN website (www.pcnbritain.org.uk) or you can send a cheque by post to

PCN Britain, 26 High St, Newnham, Gloucestershire GL14 1BB.

For further details and all enquiries, please contact the PCN Office,

Tel 01594 516528

Email: info@pcnbritain.org.uk

COST

PCN Members: £15

Non-members: £20

Students in full time education: £5

Cancellation Policy: All refunds are subject to a £5 administration fee. Refunds are not available for cancellations within two weeks of the conference date.

The nearest tube station is Tottenham Court Road. Leave the station, walking west along Oxford St and take the first left turn on to Soho Street leading to the Square.

